

Evangelists Here
Sunday

This Sunday morning at 10:30 a.m. there is the last opportunity to hear the Musical Edwardsons in the Irma Alliance church. Rev. and Mrs. Edwerdson will have complete charge of the service. Since there is no other guest speaker such as was the case last week, the Edwardsons will present, besides a timely message, geared to the need of the hour, a varied program of vocal and instrumental selections.

Only four services remain in the Viking series but these promise to be no exception in interest. Music on the King George night will be a special attraction each evening. The entertainment is one of the ensembles which was used at the Coronation of the late King George VI and is the only one of its kind in western Canada. Vocal duets as well as numbers on the saxophone, trumpet, orchestra bells and drums will also be rendered. Super color pictures of the Edwardsons recent world tour will be screened nightly in the following order:

Friday—Indian: Saturday—Europe; Sunday—Headhunters of Borneo. The last mentioned film is one of particular interest because of the great number of only white people, other than missionaries, who have penetrated this area, and the pictures of this portion of the world are of an outstanding and unusual type.

EASTERLY ECHOES

Tractors are hummin this week. The Fenton brothers finished threshing on Tuesday. It used to be hard to 'keep them down on the farm' after they'd seen Paree. Now the same applies in this district when 'fish are biting.' Sunday, Miss Vicki, Dave Hall, the Cooks, Crabb, and others headed east to Ribstone Creek and enjoyed fishing. Strange how humor and chores can be forgotten at such a time. Bill Crabb could take the credit for having caught the largest fish.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Pytel visited the former's sister, Mrs. W. Crabb on Monday.

Mrs. B. Walker enjoyed the company of her brother and a niece during the holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Walker and boys visited relatives in Mannville on Saturday.

Mr. Jack Walker and Mrs. P. Spooner of Edmonton visited at Jimmy Kennedy's Saturday.

We are sorry to hear that Marilyn Elliott and Mr. and Mrs. P. Nemo's young son are on the sick list.

Mr. Jack Savard was a week ago visited.

Bobby Burton accompanied his uncle Jim to the city on Sunday.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. T. Holt of New Westminster, B.C., a 10 lb. son. This is Mr. and Mrs. Joshua Holt's first great grandchild. Congratulations folks.

Mr. Joshua Holt attended the Layman's dinner in the McDonnell hotel on Monday. Tuesday he attended the Anglican Synod meeting. The remainder of the week he will visit his relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Walker Sr. of Irma visited their son Bill and family and called on old neighbors and friends during the holidays.

Journey to Hawaii

by Mrs. A. F. Firkus

Ambrose and I started for our journey to Hawaii on January 17, 1957. It was a beautiful warm day and there was very little or no snow all the way through Saskatchewan, Manitoba and North Dakota but as we got east into Alberta and Montana didn't have too much but Bill's cousin had quite a lot and it was quite cold. Visited with Ambrose's mother and while there watched on the TV the inauguration of the president, which was a very impressive ceremony even though it was raining.

First we came a V formation of police, followed by the president and his wife in a bubble topped car flanked by secret service men, then came vice-president Nixon, and his wife, followed by more dignitaries. The streets lined with the crowd.

Spears in the president took place in the Capitol Plaza with the Marine Band playing the "Stars and Stripes." Senator Bridges, master of ceremonies introduced dignitaries and the press gathered the inauguration.

After a few days with Ambrose's mother we started for Oklahoma. Passing through Illinois into Missouri we hit a large rain storm and had to stop travelling very hazardous but by the time we got to Kansas there was no ice. The land looks very dry and not very productive, especially along the Ozark Mts.

When we got to Oklahoma we found it very warm and dry. One of the amazing things we noticed was a large oil field in Oklahoma City area were the oil derricks, which can be seen everywhere, including next to the state capital buildings, all through the city and in people's back and front yards.

After a few days we left again. Going through western Oklahoma, the Panhandle of Texas, New Mexico and Colorado we travelled through mostly desolate land where you don't see much, only some cattle. What they live on I don't know. We went through dust storms and most every riverbed was dry as that is the drought belt and it is really dry.

Grenfell sights water, sewer nearer possibility

It begins to look like water and sewer service for Grenfell this year, optimistically reports the Grenfell Star. Says the "Latest report" from the two grapevines (official and unofficial) is that a water source is in the cards for 1957 and that the council is pursuing financial arrangements for the plan with official concern-ed.

Wolseley and Moosomin, it is noted, installed these modern services recently, and "wouldn't be without them." Kipling is making arrangements for installations in 1957. —The News, Indian Head, Sask.—April 11, 1957.

A step toward better throwing

One baseball skill in which the average player can stand a lot of improvement is the apparently simple action of throwing. Right from the first time he picks up a ball, a youngster has to throw, yet very few baseball players learn this skill correctly.

One of the important factors affecting the success of your throw is the stride forward. If it's too long, you'll lack control; too short, and you'll lose power. The step should be the same length every time. Remember, too, that your foot should point straight ahead at the spot you're aiming, not off to the side.

Work at this drill every day. You'll have to repeat it up for a month or two before you've become "grooved," but the effort will really pay off later in your baseball career.

Groove Your Approach — The first fundamental of jumping event broad jump, high jump, pole vault, hop, step and jump—is the approach. Unfortunately, it is also the most overlooked. But unless this approach is "grooved" into you, you won't be right take-off spot every time you can't concentrate on the actual jump.

Jesse Owens, the world record holder for the broad jump, could run through his approach perfectly 10 times out of 100, he could.

At your first practice before you do any actual jumping, run through your approach 10 or 15 times. Do it at the beginning of every jumping practice and you'll find that it will really pay off in added confidence and distance as the season goes on.

TAKE SPECIAL COURSE—About a hundred youths, mainly from rural communities on the Prairies have almost finished a two-months special army militia course at Winnipeg. Offered each year at this time the training is popular with the men who otherwise might have little to do on the farm at this season. They get full pay and allowances, and the military atmosphere is good for returning to their homes and perhaps part-time militia activity. Support for dry skinned milk

The Minister of Agriculture, the Right Honorable James G. Gardiner, announced recently that the Agricultural Prices Support Board has been authorized to provide a support price for Canada First Grade dry skimmed milk on the basis of $1.00 per cent per pound for spray process, and 14 cents per pound for roller process, f.o.b. storage at certain designated storage points throughout Canada.

The Minister stated that he hoped by introducing additional support for the dry skimmed milk sufficient stability would be provided to encourage producers to maintain their present production of milk. Consumption of dry skimmed milk in Canada is increasing rapidly so it has been considered desirable to maintain approximately the present market price for dry skimmed milk during the spring and summer flush production period.

Expectant mothers get free vaccine

Manitoba's expectant mothers—and there are about 20,000 of them each year—can now receive free Salk vaccine under the provincial government's policy of extending the battle against the threat of polio.

The new plan went into effect Monday (April 1), at the same time that the immunization program for preschool children (age six months to five years) was launched. Thus, from this, free antipolio vaccine was administered to children in the age five to Grade Nine group.

Hon. R. W. Bond, minister of health, said vaccine for expectant mothers would be available, on application, to health units and health officers. In each case, the physicians must submit the names of the expectant mothers for whom the free vaccine is intended. This, said Mr. Bond, is for medical purposes.

No one's to get story of Boer War vet, 78

Looking back over 70 years of life, St. Fennell, reputedly the oldest resident of the community, has many stories to tell. One of these is, for instance, one of precious few men alive who fought in the Boer War. He has been a successful rancher, a successful farmer, and... The trouble with St. Fennell is that his greatest joy and pride is taken from the fact that he has got his memory, and as far as he is concerned, no one ever will. "The only reason I can remember is that I'm a man with a memory that would shame any half his age," "is that talkin' ain't my line." It is of interest to record that Mr. Fennell did a lot of talking when "that damned camera thing" happened to click, but that was the sort of talking a man does in private.

Fireside box

The stout oak hinges of this fireside box are copies of a pair that were used for metal hinges when in common use. The directions show how to make a graduated dowel peg construction for the box which holds an evening's supply of wood and provides an extra seat by the fire. The wood carrier is made by the fire. The wood carrier is cut from one half yard of thirty-six inch canvas. It is quickly made on the sewing machine and may be used again when not in use. Tracing diagrams for the hinges with large step-step sketches for making both box and carrier are on page 362. The pattern of Early American reproductions containing an assortment of standard size patterns for making utensils is priced at $1.50.

Ask for T.B.
X-ray unit at Acadia Valley

Members of the Acadia Valley Home and School Association will continue to press for the services of a mobile X-ray unit this summer, although their initial attempts have received somewhat of a setback. Meeting here last week, the association was informed by the Alberta Tuberculosis Association that "it is impractical to send a unit to the district." The association gave as its reason the low incidence of TB in that area.

However, the Home and School Association is of the opinion that since no X-ray unit had been here in 10 years, no one could be sure of the present conditions, and another letter is being written, asking the TB Association to reconsider.

During the business part of the meeting, it was revealed that a balance of $109.82 was in the treasury. The meeting approved the setting up of a piano fund, the social committee of the group was given a description of its recent tour of Europe by Mr. E. Zutz. Mr. N. Bozak was appointed to devise means of creating this fund.

In an old fashioned spelling bee the parents won by three points over the students. The highlight of the social committee was the description of its recent tour of Europe by Mr. E. Zutz. Mr. N. Bozak was appointed to devise means of creating this fund.

The room banner and $2 prize was won by Mr. Zutz who came in first in overall attendance. The next meeting will be held on April 11. At the conclusion of the meeting the association was adjourned by Madames L. Good, F. Peers and L. Quance. —The Hanna Herald, East Central Alberta News—Mar. 28, 1957.

Costly short cuts

However, it is not in fair to the same fallings that beat some motorists. Aware of the rules of the road, they knowingly disregard them to save time or take a short cut, believing that while death may lurk around the next bend, it is not likely to strike somebody else. And, as on the highway, it is frequently not the sinner who suffers. —The Post, Grande Prairie, Alta.

DOG ESCAPES

James Hamilton of Cochrane completely demolished the rear half of his car when it crashed into a hydro pole two miles north of Hanover Thursday afternoon. The car skidded, when he braked it to avoid striking a dog. Mr. Hamilton escaped injury.—The Post, Grande Prairie, Alta.

"Thanks kids — you did just fine"

(From The Gazette, Grand Forks, B.C.)

There is a thrill seeing a race well run, a ball well hit, a horse well ridden, a jump well executed.

And there is a thrill in seeing five young boys join together into a unit, go into a game as underdogs and by determination and spirit, win fairly and graciously.

That's what happened at Grand Forks high school gym last Friday night when the Grand Forks boys beat the favorite Trail high squad by three points in an exciting basketball game as local basketball fans have ever witnessed.

The fans were wild with enthusiasm, the coaches developing ulcers, and the players staying the calmest of them all.

The ten men on the floor learned valuable lessons—Friday night—one team learned to lose graciously, which they did. And the other five learned to win happily but like sportsmen. We think it can honestly be said there are no swelled heads on the GFHS team—they are a team.

And the fans—what did they learn? They learned to cheer for the home town—and they had something to cheer about. These fans have been coming to games all year—cheering the boys and girls on in many a defeat. Now they had the happy satisfaction of cheering them on in victory.

Is this crowd hysteria? Wrong! No, it is not. The crowd was composed mostly of people who had played basketball or who are interested in it. For both of them is encouragement or satisfaction in a finely played game.

But what of the other spectator who neither plays nor loses, whose loyalty is developed towards something healthy in sport, rather than unhealthy in life. And the mothers and fathers—is there any thrill greater than seeing their son play heads up ball?

We take off our hats to the boys and girls in the red and black of GFHS. They lost many times this season but that didn't make them give up. Every game they gave it all they had.

And with or lose Friday night they were still our team—our way had reason to be proud of them. To Mr. Longmore and the boys, to Jack Lusk and the girls—you have represented us well and we are proud of you.

And just wait until next year!

Old Age Pension—A vote catcher?

(From The Post, Hanover, Ont.)

As we have pointed out before, the forty anemic dollars pension paid to the aged monthly is wholly inadequate, states "HMM" in the Pembroke Observer. He asks: Where could these pensioners get bed and board anywhere for $40 a month? Where could they get a place to live, either by the week or month, for such a small sum of money?

This small pension going to our older citizens, has finally been brought out into the open by the members of both political parties. Since the last was a Liberal victory, one would expect a federal election in June, just as the two together and you will come up with something that will concern pensioners very much. For it is evident there will be an increase. What the increase will be, however, may not be known until late in the campaign, else it may become a matter of bidding for votes by the two parties to see which one gets the most votes that way.

A $25 increase has been mentioned, but that may be too high for what the country can afford to pay. As we see it, the pension should be doubled to bring it more in line, more in keeping with our badly inflated dollars when it goes shopping.

Anyway the election is but five months away (according to the latest prediction), the number of aged getting the pension runs into hundreds of thousands in number, all these aged people have votes, thus votes may be worth their weight in gold by election time. And the party that promises the biggest increase, will likely get the most of the votes, from the pensioners at least.

American sportsmen

(From The Bulletin, Brooks, Alta.)

In the letters column this week we hear from W. A. Duncan, a sportsman associated with a lumber firm in Seattle, who has visited this irrigation district for several hunting seasons.

Mr. Duncan has opened our eyes to a few facts regarding the help given to game life in Alberta. People in the State of Washington have contributed more than $60,000 to Ducks Unlimited, to help build lakes in Alberta. His own little group sent $500 to the E.I.D. Fish and Game Association to help buy pheasant eggs a few years ago. In the devastating blizzards of six years ago, the State Game Commission sent several thousand fertile pheasant eggs to this district to replace the winter loss.

In spite of this we feel that Mr. Duncan should not be placed in a position to justify his coming to Alberta to hunt. Whether people in this district, or our own, we have the reputation for being some of the best pheasant hunting in Canada and consequently we are going to have people coming to hunt. So for us "American hunters" one concession we should extend are courteous a welcome to them as to any other visitors.

To Mr. Duncan in particular, we feel that we speak for the residents in general when we say: Come back, anytime, and hope you have better hunting.

What is a boy?

(The Touchwood Times, Punnichy, Sask.)

Between the innocence of babyhood and the dignity of manhood, we find a delightful creature called a boy. Boys come in assorted sizes, weights and colors, but all boys have the same creed: To enjoy every second of every minute of every day and to protest with noise (their only weapon) when their last minute is finished and the adults of the household pack them off to bed at night.

Boys are found everywhere—on top of, underneath, inside of, swinging from, running around, or jumping to. Mothers love them, little girls hate them, older sisters and brothers tolerate them, adults ignore them, and Heaven protects them. A boy is Truth with dirt on its face; Beauty with a cut on its finger; Wisdom with a hole in its pocket; the hope of the future with a frog in its pocket.

When you are busy, a boy is an inconsiderate, bothersome, simpleton of life. When you want him to make a good impression, his brain turns to jelly or else he becomes a savage, sadistic jungle creature bent on destroying the world and himself with it.

A boy is a composite—he has the appetite of a horse, the digestion of a sword swallower, the energy of a pocket-size atomic bomb, the curiosity of a cat, the lungs of a dictator, the imagination of a Paul Bunyan, the shyness of a violet, the audacity of a steel trap, the enthusiasm of a fire-cracker, and when he makes something, he has five thumbs on each hand.

He likes ice cream, knives, saws, Christmas, comic books, the boy across the street, wood, water (in its natural habitat), large animals, Dad, trains, Saturday mornings and fire engines. He is not much for Sunday School, company, schools, books without pictures, music lessons, neckties, barbers, girls, overcoats, adults, or bedtime.

Nobody else is so early to rise, or so late to supper. Nobody else gets so much fun out of trees, dogs and breezes. Nobody else can crawl into one pocket, a rusty knife, a half-eaten apple, 3 feet of string, an empty Bull Durham sack, 200 dried beans, a cent, a sling-shot, a chunk of unknown substance, and a genuine super-sonic code ring, all in one compacted pocket.

A boy is a musical creature. You can lock him out of your workshop, but you can't lock him out of your heart. You can get him out of your study but you can't get him out of your mind. Might as well give up—he is your captor, your jailer, your boss and your master. —Franklin Lewis, pint-sized, cut-chasing, bundle of noise. But when you come home at night with only the shattered pieces of your hopes and dreams, he can mend them like new—with two magic words—"Hi Dad!"

★ ★ ★*A new industry is born

(From The Progress, Winkler, Man.—Feb. 13, 1957)

Saturday was indeed a noteworthy day for the farmers in this area and Winkler, too, when the Winkler Cooperative Creamery officially opened its new poultry processing plant here. The community was honored in having the Hon. J. G. Gardner, Federal Minister of Agriculture, on hand for the opening.

The rapid development that will take place in poultry raising is such that the farmers have created an industry to market finished poultry should serve to further bolster farm income, and the payroll created will certainly be of great benefit to Winkler. Congratulations and a wish for good luck in their venture to Creamery Shareholders is extended from the entire community of Winkler.

Wanted by Western Development Museum at Saskatoon*A 40-year-old Hart Parr tractor

In order to round out their exhibits at Saskatoon the Museum there wants a devil. Not the big old Devil himself—just a little devil. As a matter of fact what the Museum is searching for is a tractor put out by the Hart Parr company about 1915 known as The Little Devil.

The story of the Hart Parr company who built this tractor is similar to the romantic history of other pioneer manufacturing companies in the booming agricultural days of America.

In 1892 two mechanically inclined young men met at the University of Wisconsin. They were Charlie Hart and Chas. Parr and their friendship later ripened into the formation of the Hart Parr company which has since been absorbed by the Oliver Corporation.

The two partners built their first gas traction engine in 1901 and it was used continuously for 17 years. In 1904-5 Hart Parr developed the first known method of burning kerosene as fuel which cut fuel costs in half.

In 1915 Hart Parr put out a tractor known as the Little Devil which is the tractor the Museum wants. It was a 15-22 horsepower and was a 2 cycle 2 cylinder job with a thermosyphon water cooling system with a large radiator. The over-all length of the tractor was 12 feet. It was a 4-wheeler with a front wheel in front for steering and one large drive wheel in the rear which was five feet in height and over two feet in width. The driver of the tractor was perched out on a little seat on the right hand side of the tractor right out of the dust—or he may have been right in it. It was a good tractor of its kind in its day but leads one to infer that one had to be built rugged to be a tractor operator in those days.

If anyone knows the whereabouts of a Little Devil Hart Parr or even where there are parts for such a tractor the Museum would be deeply grateful for such information. Please contact the Museum, 1839, 11th St. W., Saskatoon.

To The People of the Federal Constituency Battle River-Camrose

Many points of view concerning national development will be brought to your attention during the election campaign. This is a very large subject and space does not permit a thorough analysis of Progressive Conservative thinking on it. A book could easily be written on the subject, but a few general thoughts will have to suffice at this time.

"Agriculture and welfare is a basic cornerstone in Progressive Conservative national development policy." John Diebenkorn stated not long ago. By saying this he was reminding his audience that there are many things that have to be considered in the development of mining, transportation, forestry, conservation, fisheries, land use—these are only a few of the things which must be taken into consideration by any political development party.

Conservatives believe that it is not enough simply to ship away the iron ore, pipe out the natural gas and oil, cut down and haul away the trees. A country which is content with that type of development ships away a part of its birthright with every ton of ore, with every ton of natural gas, and with every log. There are two reasons for this. First, of course, the supply of the natural resources can be exhausted. Second, a people who sell their natural resources does not develop many skills which are the key to survival in a modern industrial world. Everyone has heard of Sheffield cutlery because of the skill with which it is made. Few people who use it know where the steel comes from. Pittsburgh is a famous name in the heavy industry of the United States. The great open pit mines that supply the mills are comparatively unknown. Ores can be bought. Skills must be developed.

We of the Conservative party believe that every effort should be made to encourage Canadians to develop Canada's natural resources here at home, to develop their own skills along many lines, and to master the art of conservation so that our nation will be offering opportunities in the generations to come.

A Progressive Conservative government will do all possible to put this line of thought into action. A vote for Cliff Smallwood will help to elect that government.

No Change in Gas Rates For at Least Another Year

Edmonton, April 26 — Gas rates are unlikely to change for at least another year. Dennis K. Yorath, president, told the annual meeting of shareholders of Northwestern Utilities, Limited here today.

Elaborating on the announcement contained in the company's annual report, which showed that the company might force the company to file with the Board of Public Utilities Commission.

The increased cost of labor, materials and money, has given the company a slight edge, he said.

"However, until the studies now under way are completed in the fall we will be unable to say what course of action will be taken, or if an application will be filed with the Board of Public Utilities Commission.

Mr. Yorath said that the company would serve eight new communities this year. The franchises have been obtained and plans made to construct the necessary facilities to provide gas service by next winter. The 8 communities are Evansburg, Easterville, Wildwood, Ishay, Lawley, Ranfurly, Linfield and Minburn.

Construction has already started on the Milner building, he said, and completion is scheduled for early 1958. Mr. Yorath, chairman of the company, will be 12 stories in height. Five stories will be occupied by Northwestern Utilities and its associate company, Canadian Utilities Limited. The remainder of the building will be available to other companies.

The meeting reflected the company's board of directors, as follows:

Howard Butcher III, Philadelphia; H. W. Francis, Calgary; A. M. MacDonald, R. Marland, G. C. McPherson, L. M. McMillan; R. C. McPherson, Edmonton; H. R. Milner, Q.C. J. R. Munro, F. A. Smith, all of Edmonton; B. F. Wilson, Calgary; and D. K. Yorath, Edmonton.

The company's officers were re-appointed as follows:

I. R. Milner, Q.C., chairman of the company; Dennis K. Yorath, president; R. C. McPherson, senior vice-president; F. A. Smith, vice-president finance; B. F. Wilson, vice-president operations; K. L. MacPherson, comptroller; M. C. Stewart, general manager; C. L. McCallum, secretary; J. B. Weihrauch, treasurer; J. E. Roberts, assistant secretary; and B. T. Banks, assistant treasurer.

Albertans will hear arguments from opposing sides later this month on the need for high gear, with visits to the province planned by Prime Minister St. Laurent and John Diefenbaker, national leader of the Progressive Conservatives.

Wedding Bells

Lien — Reitan

A wedding of much interest to the Hardisty-Lougheed area, took place in the Hardisty United church on April 16 at 7 p.m. when Olive Catherine Jeannette Reitan became the bride of Alvin Lien.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. Oscar Reitan and the late Mrs. Mrs. Reitan. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Lien, of Lougheed.

Rev. L. Knudson of Sedgewick officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a strapless floor length gown of nylon net with lace trim. Her long pointed sleeves and the collar was trimmed with simulated pearls and cup sequins. Her floor length veil of nylon net trimmed with appliqued flowers, was held in place by a matching flower crown.

The groom consisted of a rhinestone necklace with earings to match and she carried a bouquet of red roses.

Attending the bride were the bride's sister Mrs. R. McClellan, and Miss Bernice Lien, sister of the groom. Little Holly Lynn, 21 months, 21-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mrs. Archie Moulder was flower girl. Master Calvin McClellan was ring bearer.

The matron of honor chose a gown of yellow nylon over taffeta with matching bolero. The bride's maid of honor wore a lace bodice and net skirt. Each attendant wore a matching chapel veil held in place by a floral bandana. They carried carnations in shades of pink and yellow respectively.

The little flower girl wore a pink bikini and a matching skirt of decked nylon over satin. The skirt featured a scalloped hemline with net beneath. She had orange blossoms in her hair and carried a tiny nosegay of flowers.

Master Calvin McClellan as ring bearer carried a satin cushion trimmed with gold fringe and ribbons.

Mr. Arnold Lien, brother of the groom, was best man. Mr. Reg McClellan also attended the groom. Raymond Bruneau and Lars Snelten were ushers. The bride's mother, Isabel, played the wedding music. During the signing of the register, Mrs. Carl Gulbraa sang "A Wedding Prayer."

After the wedding the Melvin W.A. and friends of the bride served a gift luncheon in the church basement. The bride's cake was centred by a three tiered cake baked and decorated by the bride's aunt Mrs. A. Moulard.

Mr. Kenneth Reitan as master of ceremonies proposed a toast to the bride to which the groom responded.

During the evening a short program was presented. Wendy Reitan recited a poem. Sharon and Judy Ness sang two numbers. Mrs. L. Knudson sang a solo and a duet by Mrs. W. Shaw and Mrs. C. G. Gunnarson.

The newlyweds left later for a honeymoon trip to Calgary. For travelling the bride wore a pale blue suit and hat topped with a yellow shawl coat.

Mr. and Mrs. Lien will make their home in the Trinity district north of Lougheed.

Also Mrs. E. Reitan and family and Mrs. C. Shaw of Edmonton. Also Mrs. Martin Westley of Wetaskiwin.

Viking Elks Lodge Observe Thirtieth Anniversary

(From The Viking News)

Viking Elks Lodge No. 83 celebrated their thirtieth anniversary with an oyster feed last Saturday evening. Guests were the ladies of the Order of the Royal Purple and the Elks' wives and lady friends.

The Viking lodge was instituted in April, 1927, with forty-five members. Many of the members have passed on and others moved away. Present for the occasion were three charter members: G. T. Armstrong, R. H. Brooke and H. G. Thunell. Unable to attend was another charter member, George A. Lodes, who is a past president.

Besides some very interesting scenic films shown, games of cards, the program was highlighted by reminiscences of the past thirty years given by the charter members present. Appeals were keen for the oyster feed.

The Elks' home, The Cooks, Art Loney, Helmer Hansen and Art Reisius were accorded high praise by exalted rulers Art Ronaghan, and all present, for their culinary abilities in preparing the sea food in such an appetizing style.

Carl Heckbert, Liberal candidate for BATTLE RIVER - CAMROSE

Carl Heckbert, Liberal candidate for our constituency, will set up an ADVISORY COMMITTEE selected from every part of the riding, if elected on June 10th.

He suggests the Committee be composed of two farm women interested in welfare legislation (Family Allowance, Hospital Insurance Plan, etc.) with men selected from farm organizations, those not now in an organization, youth representatives and a representative of urban interests.

THE COMMITTEE WOULD BE STRICTLY NON-PARTISAN and would be asked to name a technical adviser from the agricultural services of the Province; the purpose of the Committee would be to advise your elected representative and to secure reports of progress at the conclusion of sessions of the House.

The Committee could serve a most useful purpose and would be directed to forward the interests of ALL OUR ELECTORS and NOT only those supporting Liberal policies.

Many points have exceeded their quotas and all the reports that have been received at headquarters are most encouraging.

Good seed bed important consideration

A suitable seed bed enabling grain to start well, is most important consideration when beginning spring work on the land, Earl Johnson, soil conservationist with the Alberta Department of Agriculture, said recently.

"If seed is handicapped by dry conditions, deep seeding, loose soil, weed competition or rough surface, the young plants will be weak and the stand uneven, while some kernels will not even germinate. The result is a poor yield, likely a light yield. On the other hand, a good seed bed which gives seed the best chance possible is firm in texture, reasonably level, moist and free from weed growth. The surface should be granular, neither badly powdered nor very lumpy."

"Finishing touches for seed bed preparation must be put on the land in spring. However, the fact that a crop will be sown should be kept in mind in all stages of seed bed operations. Lack of proper adjustment of implements such as the cultivator can make ridges which will be very difficult to correct in spring."

"Where seasonal conditions permit, seed bed operations can carry out only when land is in a reasonably moist condition. Working land too wet or too dry is often harmful."

"The implement to be used depends on soil conditions. The disc harrow is the choice to be used where soil drifting is unlikely to occur. Where shallow, even depth cultivation is possible, either the cultivator or spring tooth harrow should be used to leave a better surface. Regardless of type of implement used, cultivation before seedling should be shallow and of an even depth."

"On uniform heavy soils, careful operation is more important than the implement used. With most soils the press drill gives the best results. On light, dry, plough and pony manure drill give the most desirable effect, however. Seed should at all times be placed deep enough to reach moist soil."

"Packing is recommended on most soils, but is also necessary for stony, scrubby seedling. Where the soil is very loose, packing or rod weeding before seedling should be considered since this operation firms the soil."

"Rod weeding following the first operation allows a crop of weeds to be killed before seedling, and is the one satisfactory method of fighting wild oats. As long as surface moisture is maintained, a slight delay in seedling and a crop which will compete better with weeds and ultimately produce a heavier yield."

Agricultural societies to hold first Northern District Conference

A northern district agricultural society conference, the first ever held in the north, will be held at Dauphin, at the request of D. C. Foster, director of extension of the department of agriculture.

The information comes from Dauphin ag-rep, Dave Hill, who received a copy of the letter addressed to ag-reps and agricultural societies in the north.

Dauphin, St. Pierre, Roblin, Swan River, Gilbert Plains, Roblin, St. Rose and Ethelbert. Mr. Foster is anxious to organize the hereto unrepresented northern areas of Manitoba, and at this time is in touch with the agricultural societies to be invited to the conference to be held at the Manitoba agricultural board of the Manitoba agricultural societies.

Mr. Foster's letter also invites the home economist from the listed areas and, if there is time, the marketing director.

The first session will be provided for the lady directors.

In any event he looks for several men and women to attend from each society, one of whom will be asked

What about the milk supply?

When planning for a vacation or a summer in the country, it is wise to check up on the milk supply.

If commercially pasteurized milk is available, it should be used but if any raw milk is available, it is essential that it is pasteurized or else it should not be used.

There are several ways of rendering raw milk safe—one is by means of an automatic electrical pasteurizer, if for all year round use by doing the job simply with the kitchen equipment at hand, the method is bringing the milk up to 170 deg. F. in a double boiler (a cooking thermometer is used), then removing the pan from the flame, allowing it to stand for one minute, then cooling quickly. An even easier method is to bring the milk to a simmer, in an ordinary saucepan; keep it at the heat for one minute then cool quickly. The local or provincial health department will supply a folder entitled "Safe Milk" free upon request.

Two-thirds of the surface of New Zealand is suitable for farming.

Guard your sight as most precious possession

"Guard your sight as your most precious possession," urged Mrs. W. C. Bending, president The Canadian Council of the Blind. She was commenting on the theme of White Cane Week, February 16-18. "Use Wise, take care of your eyes."

Co-sponsored by the Canadian Council of the Blind and the Canadian National Institute for the Blind for the past 12 years, this national education period has played a major part in developing a greater understanding between sighted and sighted from St. John's to Victoria.

"This year we are turning to sight conservation," Mrs. Bending said. Asked why blind persons are so interested with canes, she says the president replied, "Because we have learned from experience the difficulty of living from day to day under blindness." Mrs. Bending vividly portrayed the problem of the housewife who blind. "Imagine yourself without sight," she suggested. "How would you get along with your daily duties?"

Suppose you have just bought a pound of butter and a quart of milk. You have to stand with the layout of your kitchen, and so find the refrigerator without incident. Experience has taught you that system is a "must" for a homemaker. One hand must be kept free for "seeing" so the milk and butter are put away one item at a time.

Even setting the table is a lengthy energy-consuming process for you. As the table setting progresses you must constantly glance over the cream pitcher, placing the pickles on top of the butter. When removing the cloth, you cannot glance at the table to see that all the dishes are cleared away. You must take time to examine it carefully, or you will have a vase of flowers on the floor."

"With clothing you will find a problem in handling the wide variety of colors," Mrs. Bending said. "You will have to keep white gloves and stockings in one place, black in another, and brown in a third. You must be careful even to separate your light and dark hat pins. Should you forget just which is which, you may find yourself wearing a color combination like a checkerboard suit."

"These problems are not insurmountable," Mrs. Bending explained. "They have been defeated time and time again. But if you wish to continue your housekeeping the easy way, take advantage of White Cane Week." "Please, take care of your eyes."

The Times, Taber, Alberta.

Improved with age

Many employers have found that older persons have special skills to offer, backed by thorough training and long experience. These people are not so prone to causing accidents and are where heavy muscular labor is involved, they compete well with younger workers.

To keep apples from turning dark, include the peeled fruit with citrus or pineapple juice. For a large quantity of apples, place slices as they are peeled into cold salted water (1 teaspoon salt per quart of water).

B.C. Electric starts on natural gas plants

Plan for distribution of natural gas in Surrey Municipality will be outlined to Surrey Council Monday.

With expiry of the April 1st deadline for municipal action on natural gas distribution, the B.C. Electric's certificate for distribution becomes valid in this municipality.

To be ironed out with the Municipal Council is the location of distribution lines, conditions governing digging up on roads, approval of plans.

Interest will be the target date when the utility company can give natural gas to consumers in Surrey. With construction programs already underway in other districts of the Fraser Valley it is not known at present when Surrey households will have to wait for natural gas.

The devotions were led by Mrs. Curran who spoke from the 22 chapter of Luke. This dealt with Christ in Gethsemane and how he was strengthened to bear his forthcoming pain and death because of prayer. Mrs. Riley gave the last chapter of the study book which dealt with the Christian church in Burns and Thailand.

The WMS will be tying a quilt in the United church parlor on the afternoon of Tuesday, May 7. Helpers are always welcome. On May 17 the WMS will pack a parcel for Korean Relief. Any one having articles for the parcel please leave them at the church parlor by that date.

Mrs. Louis Larson had a visit from her mother Mrs. M. Cleland and also her brother, Mr. C. Defeo during the Easter holidays.

These warm spring days are so summery that a time of writing, May 1, the trees are beginning to leaf out. We hope they will not find a sudden frost to make them regret this early start. Anyway they look lovely.

Did you know that all freight cars carry what railroaders call a "bump detective"? This is a recording apparatus which shows how fast a freight car is travelling during switching operations and serves to hold down damage that might be caused by over enthusiastic switching engineers when picking up and breaking up trains.
